A well known actress, a woman lawyer and an authoress of renown form one of the "cooperatives" as they are called at the central markets. Three times a week they get out with their market baskets early enough to get to the "Hailes" for the seven o'clock sales and by combining their requirements get nearly everything o'clock sales and by combining their requirements get nearly everything they need at wholesale prices.

Provisions bought at the central markets are not delivered at domi? clies by the seller which has always been an obstacle to individual marketing there; the money saved was no more and often less than the price of a cab to carry the purchases home. The cooperative system removes this obstacyle, the same cab delivers baskets of provisions to three or four families, leaving a good margin of profit on the day's marketing.

Prevention of Contagious Diseases

David Mitchell of Stafford Springs vas graduated from the Norwich Free City Health Officer Edward J. Brophy Gave Public Lecture at scademy this week. Town Hall Before Interested Audience-Many Stereop ticon Slides Emphasized Danger of Infection.

> Before an enthusiastic audience, Dr. of trouble in the lining of the intestigned of the i Edward J. Brophy, city health efficer, gave an address on contagious diseases and the care of infants during the summer months. Thursday evening at 3 o'clock in the town hall. The address was to the point and was illustrated by stereopticon slides.
>
> Dr. Brophy explained the object of the meeting and said that the difficulty in speaking on medical topics is because of the liability of misconstruing the meaning of the words. The subject is divided into two parts, that is, the general classification of diseases, (1) cause by living organisms (2) those due to manner of living excesses.

How Diphtheria Manifests Itself.

Diphtheria manifests itself by fever, headache and sore throat with grayist patches on the tonsils or in croupous cases the patch is in the larynx or vocal chords which gives rise to the peculiar barking cough in breathing. Every child who has croupy cough and croupy breathing with fever should be regarded as suffering from diphtheria until the contrary is proved and should be isolated from the rest of the family and, as in all contagious discusses, allowed to use only their own utensils and drinking cups. Sometimes the patch appears in the nose and is known as nasal diphtheria. The croupous and nasal diphtheria are the most dangerous forms.

Measles shows itself through cold in the head, cough and fever and after How Diphtheria Manifests Itself.

Slides illustrating the diseases carried by files were shown. Dr. Brophy discussed next the care of the infant during the summer months and he pointed out that milk must be protected from the files. Screen the house and keep the milk on ice. Be content to purchase the ice and screening and save the costly expense of a long period of illness and death.

Breast milk is the proper food for the infant. When cows' milk cannot be kept on ice and protected from files, condensed milk should be used. When condensed milk has been open for any length of time, drop five to ten drops of cod liver oil in it to make up the leaking fat. For children up to 3 years oid the proper diet is milk, bread, crackers, soft eggs, potatoes, butter, fruit juices, and no child under 3 years of age /should be fed meat, bananas, tomatoes, corn, cucumbers, apples or pears. Convulsions often cananas, tomatoes, corn, cucumbers, apples or pears. Convulsions often occur because of improper diet. Bananas are highly satritious but are difficult to digest. All infants during the summer should have frequent baths, sunlight, water and proper ventilation in the sleeping room.
